Registration includes access to the conference proceedings that will be available on the WSSCI website.

Call for Papers Deadline: July 31, 2019

Technical papers are solicited on all aspects of combustion including (not a complete list):

- Chemical kinetics
- Soot and PAH
- Heterogeneous combustion
- Laminar and turbulent flames
- Fire science
- Alternative fuels and engine combustion
- Combustion diagnostics
- Innovative and emerging concepts in combustion
- Coal, biomass combustion and gasification

Papers may cover a broad range of focus, from fundamental combustion phenomena to practical applications of combustion technology. Papers from industrial organizations are strongly encouraged. Please note that presentation of a paper at this meeting does not constitute archival publication.

Prospective authors are required to submit a 100 to 200-word abstract by July 31, 2019. Acceptance notifications will be sent to authors by the WSSCI Program Chair, David Lignell, Brigham Young University on or before August 12, 2019.

Full papers must be least five (5) pages in length. Presentation of papers is contingent upon receipt of an electronic copy of the accepted paper by August 31, 2019. Note: papers will be distributed to all registrants.
