THE COMBUSTION INSTITUTE

The Combustion Institute is an educational non-profit, international, scientific society for promotion and dissemination of research in combustion science. Members play an active role in planning the events held by the Combustion Institute and in arranging for publishing its volumes and journal. The International Symposium on Combustion is the main activity of The Combustion Institute. The next meeting is the 38th Symposium, to be held in Adelaide, Australia. The biennial symposium attracts members of The Combustion Institute as well as other researchers from around the world, interested in combustion. The synergism produced at this symposium has made it the principal forum for presenting and integrating combustion research results. Members are also responsible for publishing the proceedings of the International Symposium and the journal Combustion and Flame. These volumes provide a unique collection of research data.

BELGIAN SECTION

The Belgian section of the Combustion Institute comprises about 100 active members. Every two years, a national two-days meeting is organized, called 'Journées d'Etudes'. The language of the meeting is English. The best paper, presented by a young researcher at that meeting, is selected by a scientific expert committee in the field of combustion and the researcher wins the 'Adolphe Van Tiggelen Award'. The chair of the section is Prof. Alessandro Parente.

SCOPE OF THE MEETING

The meeting is organised under the auspices of the Belgian section. Its objectives include both fundamental research and industrial applications relevant to combustion processes. The purpose is to have an overview of the most recent research efforts in the combustion field and to provide opportunities for scientists and engineers to establish collaboration.

Any topic relevant to either fundamental or applied research in combustion is welcome. The scope of the seminar "Selected topics in combustion" will deal with a wide range of subjects related to reaction mechanisms, heat transfer, furnaces and burners, flame structures, modelling, flame inhibition, incineration, pollutants emission, detonation phenomena, fire, etc.
